

Peter Calthorpe

M 12 Oct 6:30 Kresge Theatre

Calthorpe Associates

Global Sprawl: Types and Antidotes

David Lewis Lecture on Urban Design cosponsored by the Remaking Cities Institute
Underwritten by Urban Design Associates

Peter Calthorpe is principal of Calthorpe Associates, an architecture, urban design, and regional planning firm based in Berkeley. Calthorpe Associates is internationally recognized for its innovative leadership in shaping new forms of growth and development that reestablish a sense of place, scale, history, and environmental balance within the built environment. He is the author of numerous books, including 'The Regional City: Planning for the End of Sprawl' and 'The Next American Metropolis', outlining his concept of Transit Oriented Development; his latest book, 'Urbanism in the Age of Climate Change', was published by Island Press in 2013.